PUBLISHER PARTNERSHIPS: THIS SONG IS SICK

Drake just decided to drop an unexpected 17 track full length album on iTunes titled "If You're Reading This It's Too Late". It features previously surfaced track "6 God". The album also includes features from Lil Wayne, Travis Scott and PARTYNEXTDOOR. This is quite a nice treat you shouldn't miss out on. Enjoy.

Drake will be one of the headliners at this year's Coachella music festival.

STORY

My story has changed quite a lot since moving to Boulder, Colorado and starting Thissongissick back in 2010. My name is Nick Guarino and this is Thissongissick.com. We've grown a lot since, but the original goal has always stayed the same: making it easier for you to discover sick new music that you've never heard before. In high school I would make mix cd's for my friends to show them all the new music I was discovering. Now, through TSIS, we work with musicians and record labels from all over the world to showcase a variety of the freshest electronic, hip-hop, indie, and alternative music to a global following that is comprised of millions of music lovers in over 110 countries - every single month. So, make yourself at home while enjoying countless amazing musicians from a variety of genres and let the sick sounds fill your ears! - Nick

PUBLISHER PARTNERSHIPS: PIGEONS AND PLANES

The screenshot shows a dark-themed website for "PIGEONS AND PLANES". At the top, there is a navigation bar with categories: NEWS, MUSIC, FEATURES, NO CEILINGS, and INTERVIEWS. To the right of the categories is a search bar with a magnifying glass icon and the word "SEARCH". Further to the right are social media icons for Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, and SoundCloud, along with a cloud icon.

The main headline is "LISTEN TO KANYE WEST'S NEW SONG “WOLVES” FT. SIA AND VIC MENSA" in large, bold, pink capital letters. Below the headline, it says "POSTED BY CONSTANT GARDNER ON FEBRUARY 12, 2015 IN AUDIO".

Below the headline, there is a row of social sharing icons: Facebook, Twitter, Google+, Pinterest, and a "6K" icon. To the right of these is a small box containing the number "13" and a comment icon.

At the bottom of the image, there are three small buttons: "SHARE", a shopping cart icon, and a YouTube icon with a dropdown arrow.

Just a little earlier today, Kanye West debuted his new clothing line with adidas at a fashion show in New York which was also live-streamed to certain theaters across the world. During that show, Kanye debuted a new song called “Wolves,” which features Sia and Vic Mensa, and someone at one of the screenings captured the whole song.

“Wolves” was apparently produced by Sinjin Hawke and Cashmere Cat and is track one from Kanye’s new album. Recently, we heard Kanye on “Only One” with Paul McCartney and “FourFiveSeconds” with McCartney and Rihanna.

In my opinion, Jose Luis Gotcha is owed a couple of rental checks from rappers who've lifted his hardcore-yet-eccentric lyrical style. With his eclectic sense of rapping blasting him into the spotlight in throughout the late 90s-early Aughts, I feel that some fellow New Yorkers wouldn't have been willing to take risks with their own sound had it not been for him. One such emcee is A$AP Ferg: I'm not saying that Noreaga directly influenced his methods, but the Fergenstein is definitely not afraid to warp his sound around a beat like a warmed Jolly Rancher wrapped around a Charms Blow Pop.

The two joined forces to announce a new season, which to me is another name for this ridiculously sticky and grimy-feeling weather New York is experiencing (or, another typical summer in the Big Apple). Produced by SPKilla and Nel E Nel, they go back and forth over some frenetic drums and a Lil Wayne sample with their unique sound. This is a perfect set-up to Capone-N-Noreaga's upcoming project Lessons, which drops July 24th.

SONG PAGE

The screenshot shows a web browser window with a light gray header bar containing standard operating system controls (red, yellow, green buttons, back, forward, search, etc.). Below the header is a navigation bar with 'Home' and 'Search' buttons, and a user profile for 'Jay Tong'.

About "Blank Space"

Reaching No.1 on the Billboard Top 100 and Mediabase pop charts, "Blank Space" is another smash hit by country-turned-pop singer Taylor Swift. Following the preceding single "Shake It Off", this second single from her album 1989 has an electropop feel topped off with a defiant and sassy chorus. The song pokes fun at the media's portrayal of Taylor as a man-eater, and she has certainly responded to the obsessed media the best way she knows how. The song has inspired many covers including a notable one by Kelly Clarkson that Taylor lauded herself.

Lyrics for Taylor Swift - "Blank Space"

Nice to meet you, where you been?
I could show you incredible things
Magic, madness, heaven sin

ALBUM PAGE (ON ROADMAP)

Rank	Song Title	Artist	Length	Action
1	Jigsaw (reconstruction)	Tarrantella	2:34	Heart
2	Dragonfly (Ilya Malyuev remix reconstruction)	Forerunners	4:56	Heart
3	Oversound	Cormac Murphy	3:25	Heart
4	Questinia	Filiaro	6:13	Heart

At the top of the window, there are standard OS X-style window controls (red, yellow, green buttons, close, minimize, maximize) and a toolbar with icons for search, share, and more.
